

Appl. No. 10/806,201
Reply to Office Action of May 5, 2006
Office Action dated: November 6, 2006

REMARKS

Applicants respectfully request reconsideration of the prior art rejections set forth by the Examiner under 35 U.S.C. sections 102 and 103. Applicants respectfully submit that the prior art references of record, whether considered alone, or in combination, fail to either teach or suggest Applicants' presently claimed invention. Applicants' presently claimed invention is directed to novel and a non-obvious systems and methods for transmitting desired audio information to a user device. Applicants submit that the prior art cited by the Examiner fails to teach or suggest the subject matter of the claimed invention.

In order to highlight the distinctions between the prior art and the claimed invention, Applicants have modified independent claim one to further specify a data processing system for correlating the stored time of transmission information and identification of the source of transmitted data with desired data of interest for each of a plurality of independent transmission sources and a means for transmitting the desired data of interest to an additional user memory.

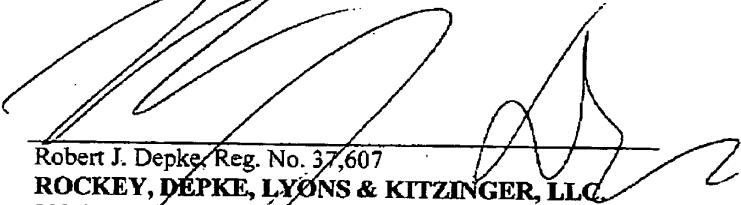

Applicants respectfully submit that the prior art cited by the Examiner provides no teaching or suggestion whatsoever regarding Applicants system as now claimed for correlating user data specifying time of transmission and a source of transmission for the data with the desired data for downloading. Additionally, Applicants respectfully submit that the prior art provides no teaching or suggestion whatsoever regarding the creation of a list of desired songs to be downloaded and transmitting the list to an automated system that subsequently transmits the desired audio data back to the memory of a user system.
